He was a man of retiring disposition yet his business brought him in touch with many classes of people and his dealings with his customers was distinguished by a fine courtesy and unfailing consideration for the rights and privileges of others. MARTIN DISCHARGED

At his examination trial before County Judge Chenault last week, John Martin, charged with shooting and wounding his brother, Marion Martin, and with killing his brother-in-law, Lee Willoughby, was discharged on both charges. The defense relied upon the law of self-defense in the first case and claimed Willoughby was shot accidentally. He was held to answer before the next grand jury for carrying concealed a deadly weapon. The trouble occurred about a month ago near Willoughbytown, this county.

CONGRESS CONVENED MONDAY

Most of the members of the Senate and House have arrived at Washington and the United States Congress is now in session. It is reported that the members say that the people are determined upon a vigorous prosecution of the war and that even in sections that were luke warm a short while ago much interest is now being manifested. The President will deliver his message today but just what program will be carried out is not known but it is thought that a short recess will be taken at once in order to give the committees opportunity to survey and map out their work. It is thought that before the holiday recess is taken the prohibition question will be again taken up and the disposition of this question will be pressed.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

There are a few things which we wish to be thoroughly understood by the many people to whom we are mailing today a card soliciting aid for the Public Aest Room.

1st. The Country Woman's Club is able to maintain its own private club rooms and give several hundred dollars to the Public Rest Room fund just as we did this past year.

2nd. We solicit no aid from a disinterested person.

3rd. We want the town people to have a part in this room, if they so desire, and are anxious to have them feel free to use it.

4th. We open our private Club Rooms to W. C. T. U., County Teachers' meetings, Health and Welfare League, National Council of Defense, Red Cross, and any other organization in which the general public is interested and urge them to use these Rooms.

5th. Our accounts will be open to the public and an annual financial report will be published in our newspapers, so each one who gives will be able to see just how their donation is spent.

6th. That the Country Club gave (1/2) one-half of the funds spent last year, the town and W. C. T. U. one-half.

7th. We have tried faithfully to carry out our contract with the merchants and shall do so again, if they care to entrust their funds to us again. We thank you for your past favors, and ask your co-operation for the incoming year.

Respectfully,

COUNTRY WOMAN'S CLUB

Any donation, however small, will be appreciated.

The Shannon Stock Company opened for a week's engagement in this city Monday night. OPENING IS POSTPONED

Sales at the Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouses Postponed Until Wednesday.

Owing to a number of buyers representing some of the largest tobacco companies not being able to be present today, the opening sales on the loose leaf market were postponed until Wednesday morning at which time all the buyers will be present. It is estimated that there will be about 150,000 pounds offered for sale over the floors of the three houses. Speculators have been rather busy the last few days buying tobacco at big figures and if the market at Lexington Monday is any criterion several dollars will be lost. The market at that place Monday averaged $31.89 but it is reported that $35.00 has been paid here for considerable tobacco. The market here will be as good as any in the state and we urge the farmers throughout this section of the state to bring their tobacco to Mt. Sterling.

REGISTRATION

DISAPPOINTMENT

The number of women to register for war service was a distinct disappointment to those that had the movement in charge but it is thought that many women do not understand just what is wanted by the government. Only 115 have registered but Mrs. W. O. Hopper, Chairman of the local Committee, would be pleased to have any that forgot to register or who failed for any reason, to call her by telephone and have their names enrolled and the registration fully explained.

GERMANS HELD IN THE U. S.

Two classes of German prisoners are now detained in this country. One is comprised of sailors taken into custody when the United States entered the war; the other consists of "alien enemies," civilians who have been arrested and are now being held under governmental regulations for various reasons.

The principal detention camp is at Fort McPherson, Ga., where approximately 850 war prisoners are held; at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., there are 165 alien enemies; at Fort Douglas, Utah, there are 517 prisoners of war and 80 interned Germans. Small detachments are now temporarily quartered at Army posts throughout the country, but their number is relatively small.

Altogether there are 2,364 actual prisoners of war in the custody of the War Department and about 400 interned aliens held at the request of the Department of Justice.

It is estimated that Germany is now holding 150 sailors taken from American ships by commerce raiders and other German vessels.

REMEMBER THE PAST

Under the above warning caption, The Elizabethtown News makes the following terse statement which is self-explanatory and cannot be made clearer or more pungent or closer the truth by comment. The News says:

There has been nothing more presumptuous in Kentucky politics than the attempt of the wets to organize the next Legislature and submit a State-wide Prohibition amendment which they propose to vote against and use every means to defeat.

There would be just as much reason in summoning Boies Penrose to write the next Democratic National platform.

The prohibition amendment should be framed by its friends, not its enemies, whether those enemies be open or concealed. Its passage through the Legislature should be in charge of those who want to see it adopted, and not by those who would like to see it beaten 100,000 votes.

There has never been anything so palpable as this trick of the liquor interests to get control of a Legislature that is to submit an amendment which they hope to beat. There is nothing about it that savors of candor or honor; all about it is that malodorous record of deception and dishonesty that has marked the course of this sinister crew in Kentucky politics for 20 years.

The story of the Hutchcraft law and the Anti-Shipping bill in the last Legislature is sufficient warning for the coming Legislature not to repeat its folly.

A law, framed by Prohibitionists, and having for its purpose the closing of saloons in Covington and Newport on Sunday was defeated under orders of the Administration and the notorious Hutchcraft substitute, endorsed by whisky politicians, whisky lobbyists and whisky members of the Legislature, was passed. The result was that the saloons of Covington and Newport continue to defy the law, and that the Hutchcraft law is impotent to remedy the evil.

The anti-shipping bill is a slightly different story, but with the same moral. An administration, solemnly pledged to uphold the county unit law, ruthlessly defeated this measure which was the most important of all bills to preserve and strengthen that law. A signed petition of 53 members of the House to call it from the Rules Committee to a vote, was placed under the heel of a whisky speaker, taking orders from a whisky administration.

These are instances of dry laws entrusted to their wet foes. These are concrete examples of the slaughter that Prohibition received from its enemies in the last Legislature, and they are likewise a warning of what may be expected to happen to the State-wide amendment if the State Administration controls the next House.

Forewarned is forearmed, and the Representatives, elected on a dry platform, who votes with the Administration in the organization of the House, has a poor way of proving his faith.

The Advocate "Stands for Good Printing."

THE comfort, power, body design and coachwork of this Oldsmobile Model 45 meet every desire of the experienced motorist—at a price several hundred dollars below any comparable value in a motor car. Its comfort is a revelation; the under-slung, long rear springs combined with the deep, double-tiered springs of the upholstery, give riding unexpected smoothness and ease. Exceptional roominess and carrying capacity of the body come from the economy of space in the use of the compact, V-type motor. The 8-cylinder motor delivers one horse power to every 51 pounds of car weight—a ratio so high as to assure more than ample reserve power for every emergency of the road.

Remarkable flexibility, fascinating smoothness of over-lapping power impulses and freedom from vibration—all characteristic of 8-cylinder construction—are perfected to the highest degree. Its quick "get-away" and spirited "pick-up" at any speed, together with elimination of frequent gear shifting, gives Oldsmobile driving a real zest that is devoid of drive strain. Yet the gasoline consumption is unusually low—even as compared with less powerful cars. Oldsmobile country-wide system of service stations and the generous full year guarantee are added insurance of complete owner satisfaction. And the price of this car is only $1467.00, f. o. b. USERS OF EXPLOSIVES MUST SECURE FEDERAL LICENSES

A Federal license is now required in the United States for the legal possession of explosives, any person having explosives and not holding a license therefor being subject to a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for one year.

Only citizens of the United States and friendly countries may obtain licenses. The purchaser of dynamite must state definitely what the explosive is to be used for when obtaining his license, and will be held accountable for its use as stated and the return of any that may be left.

With the strict enforcement of this law the Federal authorities hope to prevent explosives falling into the hands of evilly disposed persons, and to put a stop to all further dynamite plots.

DECREASE IN NEWSPAPERS

The gradual decline in the number of newspapers in the United States is the subject of the leading editorial in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Although the comment refers mostly to daily newspapers, the decrease in weekly newspapers is probably almost as great. This is what the Post says:

"For twenty years the number of newspapers and periodicals in the United States has been steadily declining, relatively to population. In the last decade or so the number of daily newspapers has notably decreased. A contemporary reports that, though the population of the 14 largest cities in Michigan has doubled, the number of daily newspapers has fallen from 42 to 23.

"No doubt like causes have produced a like effect elsewhere. Quite recently consolidations of dailies in first-class cities have attracted attention. The number of considerable cities with no morning paper and of still bigger places with only one morning paper appears to increase. Within our recollection, five morning papers have disappeared from Chicago, though the population of the city has much more than doubled.

"The cause, of course, is the steadily increasing cost of establishing and publishing a newspaper. The investment which formerly would have launched a daily paper in Chicago or New York now hardly suffices for Kalamazoo, and operating costs are so high that a paper must win every substantial support or lose a lot of money.

"War has greatly increased costs by raising the price of paper, other materials and labor. Probably these war costs have been a governing motive in some recent consolidations. The new revenue law, which not only increases postal charges enormously but provides for a zone system, falls heavily on newspaper profits, and will presumably accelerate the movement toward consolidation, sectionalism and elimination.

"We should not be surprised if two daily papers in a city with anything less than a hundred thousand inhabitants became the exception rather than the rule. That would give the surviving publisher a lot of political influence, but would tend to a one-sided discussion of public affairs."

There is little doubt but that the

The world should reserve its criticisms of Kerensky and the Russian republic. Democracies are not born in a day, neither is the character of a people changed overnight. While the pains of a new birth have temporarily impaired her fighting power, given a little time to adjust herself to the new conditions, Russia will yet give a good account of herself. Especially should we of the United States withhold censure, permitting, as we do, obstructionists and trouble makers to stalk unmolested throughout the land. We might criticize with a better grace if we would fill some prison cells with occupants for whom they have long been waiting.

ALCOHOL IN BEER REDUCED

Orders reducing the alcoholic contents of beer to 3 per cent. will be issued soon by the Food Administration with the approval of the President. At the same time the amount of grain used by brewers will be cut down approximately 30 per cent., although the volume of beer will not be decreased.

Perhaps the reason the crown prince continues to fall back is because it's rather inconvenient to fall in any other direction.

constantly increasing cost of producing a newspaper is responsible for the declining number of papers, due to the failure of publishers to raise their advertising and subscription rates to meet the conditions.

That the United States is the most enlightened nation on the face of the globe, that there is a far less percentage of illiteracy among our population than in any other country and that our people enjoy greater liberty than any race has ever known, is largely due to the number of newspapers and the freedom which they have enjoyed.

Any decrease in the number of daily or weekly newspapers in the United States is to be deplored because, as the Post says, of the increasing political influence of those which survive. But the survivors will only be those today on a profit-sharing basis, not the papers selling below cost their two only salable commodities, advertising space and subscriptions.

A profitable employment for the girls is the making of handy little scrap books of jokes, cartoons, and short articles of local interest to be sent to brothers, sweethearts and friends in the camps and at the front. Make them as local in tone as possible and they will be much appreciated by the boys. No need to aim at permanency, as the boys will probably not be able to preserve after they have enjoyed their contents.

Furloughs for Yuletide week will be granted all men at Army cantonments whose absence can be permitted in the opinions of the division commanders, to enable them to spend Christmas at their homes.

THE LEGISLATURE

Unless Mr. Stanley undertakes to meddle in everything in the coming session of the Legislature, as he did in the last, it promises to be one of the most useful sessions in the state's history.

There are many subjects of importance to be considered. The most important, of course, is the act submitting to the voters of the state a constitutional amendment on state-wide prohibition. This bill should be drawn by its friends and not by its enemies, to insure a clean-cut measure, free from defects and jokers. If properly submitted, it will be adopted, but as it takes several years to get it into working shape, a statute making it unlawful to ship liquors from wet to dry territory would furnish immediate relief to many localities now under local option.

As to whether the Frankfort gang will undertake to control, even to the extent of again sending gunmen upon the floor of the house, remains to be seen.

In Honor of Miss McCoun.

Miss Daisy Moore Porter entertained on Friday with a beautiful afternoon tea in honor of her guests, her cousin, Mrs. Joel Clarke, of Richmond, formerly Miss Eleanor Hagan a lovely young bride and Miss Elizabeth McCoun, of Mt. Sterling. The party colors were yellow and white and the attractive home on Kentucky avenue had exquisite decorations of ward roses and chrysanthemums with many pretty palms and ferns about everywhere. The halls and rooms were all thrown together and the guests were received in the drawing room. The table was in the dining room and was especially pretty in its appointments. It was covered with lace pieces and in the center was a basket filled with ward roses, tied with yellow tulle and in silver vases about were chrysanthemums. Yellow candles burned in silver holders and about were silver dishes filled with nuts. A delicious course lunch was served and the hours were delightful ones for the guests.

Miss Porter wore a beautiful gown of black lace, over silver cloth, Miss Clark was attractive in pale blue Georgette crepe and satin and Miss McCoun wore a lovely gown of gray taffeta. Receiving with the hostess were her mother, Mrs. J. W. Porter, Misses Eunice Katherine Shouse, Clara Belle Walton and Lella Yancey. About seventy-five guests enjoyed the charming hospitality.—Lexington Herald.

"COUNTRY UNITED IN DEVOTION TO FREEDOM"

I have traveled through the most diverse parts of the country and come in contact with every variety of our citizenship—the rich and the poor, those who have sprung from old English stock, as well as naturalized citizens who have come to us from the different lands of Europe, including the central powers. In the midst of all this diversity of place and people, behind all differences, I find a common and complete devotion to this country and an unquestioning devotion to the aims of freedom and democracy which are the purposes of this country behind the war.

The ultimate sacrifice is made by those at the battle front, and readiness to make that sacrifice arouses the gratitude of the whole country. Those at the front must be supported by those at home in farm, field, mine, and factory.

The whole Nation must dedicate itself, and as the issue between freedom and authority is clearly drawn I find evidences on all hands that the whole Nation is rising to its responsibility and dedicating all its resources, material as well as spiritual, to the successful prosecution of the war and to the realization of those ideals for which we have entered upon it.

At Last—A One-Adjustment Cream Separator

BEFORE you buy any cream separator, come in and look at the Primrose. One adjustment is all that is necessary to keep it in perfect operating condition at all times. This adjustment is a simple one for keeping the bowl at the correct height—an adjustment that you or your wife can safely make, whenever it's necessary.

The adjustment is made from the outside of the separator by either raising or lowering the bearing containing the hardened steel point, upon which the spindle revolves. A slight turn with a screwdriver, perhaps once a year, does the work. The Primrose is a well-constructed, close-skimming, durable cream separator. It will make a saving of $10.00 to $15.00 per cow in your herd every year. It is made in four sizes to separate 350 to 850 pounds of milk per hour, or from about 40 to 98 gallons. Ask for a catalogue giving a complete description, or, come in and look over the Primrose yourself.

JOE JACKSON JOINS NAVY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Jackson, of Winchester, have received word from their son, Joseph A. Jackson, who has been employed for some time on the staff of the New York World, that he had resigned his position and gone with the Navy on special duty.

Since going to New York, Mr. Jackson has made rapid strides in his chosen profession and at the time that he resigned his position with the World was drawing quite a nice salary and was steadily climbing to the top round, having been promoted several times since being employed on the paper.

Mr. Jackson expresses in his letter his intention of enlisting in the Navy if he is not called for service in the regular army, and if he is called he is of the opinion that the Naval officers will give him a commission and retain him, as he much prefers to cast his lot with the Navy.

The following letter which was received by Mr. Jackson from the New York World is an attest of the esteem in which he was held by the management of the World:

"My Dear Mr. Jackson:

"I see you leave the paper with much regret. Your service has always been intelligent, honest and industrious, and you have shown good performance and better promise as a newspaper man. I am allowing you all extra weeks' salary and I shall be glad to have you return to the World when your military duties release you.

"The New York World, Herbert Bayard Swope."
Mr. Jackson is well known in this city and county, where he is widely related.

Wouldn't it be as well to suspend the study of geography in the schools for a time at least? The youngsters might stand the chance of getting the right kind of start, which they are by no means sure of now.

TWO STORIES ABOUT DOGS

They May Interest Those Who Think
Pet Dogs for a Few More Important than Cheap Mutton for Many.

Admirers of dogs don't tell ALL the dog stories.

Here are two, ignored by friends of "man's faithful friend."

In Williamsburg a dog attacked school children, bit two of them and bit three men who attempted to assist the children. The children, badly bitten on arms, legs, neck and face, were taken to the hospital.

Near Baltimore an aged woman slept in a loft of a farmhouse, "protected" by two of the above mentioned "faithful friends of man." One morning recently this unfortunate woman did not appear.

Searchers found in the loft what looked like a pile of rags with a number of dogs tearing at it. It was the woman, dead, killed by her two "faithful friends" and some dogs who had come to share in the proceedings.

Not pleasant stories, but it is well for the majority to remember that the dog is only a more or less thoroughly tamed WILD animal.

He is always a menace, for he CARRIES, SPREADS and BREEDS disease.

He is occasionally savage and NEVER safe.

He flatters the vanity of men that want to be admired and have their feet licked by the thing that they kick.

He occasionally takes the place of a child with women whose affections do not reach quite as far as childhood.

What is even more important just now than his murderings and his spreading of disease is this fact:

It is the prevalence of dogs throughout the country that prevents the raising of sheep and increases the production OF WEEDS.

If dogs did not exist, this country would raise hundreds of millions more sheep than are raised now.

The sheep would destroy weeds, increase fertility of the soil, lower the cost of living—the price of mutton would be cut in half.

But a few eminent and crookedly affectionate ladies wish to have pet dogs.

A considerable number of men that cannot earn the applause of their fellows are content with the servile flattering of some dog that crouches and admires them.

Therefore, children and old women must be bitten occasionally. And the raising of sheep must be made so difficult and expensive that it is abandoned in many parts of the country entirely.

It will be said that the dog is needed as a protector at night.

Whatever protecting a dog will do, a lock will do, and do it better.

If the farmer thinks he needs a dog, let him build around his house a fence over which the dog cannot climb, let the dog deal with intruders at night and be locked up, as all wild animals should be locked up, in the daytime.

As for the individual who allows a dangerous dog to go at large near his children, his instinct for self-protection is not highly developed.

There is no more reason for permitting a man to keep alive near your children a dog that is dangerous, or that may become dangerous, than there is for permitting a poisonous snake to live in your neighborhood.

AMERICAN ENGINEERS IN-STALL RAILWAYS IN FRANCE

The Corps of Engineers of American Army since April has not only been supplying the Engineer equipment for more than 1,000,000 men, but the members of the railway section have undertaken to transport and install and put in operation overseas a complete railway equipment.

The cost of materials ordered to date is approximately $70,000,000, including some hundreds of locomotives, more than 100,000 tons of steel rails, more than 3,000 complete turnouts, 500,000 ties, 12,000 freight cars, 600 fill and ballast cars, 600 miles of telephone wire and apparatus, and vast quantities of construction and repair equipment.

A duty imposed upon the engineers has been the purchase of the necessary Engineer equipment for more than 1,000,000 men. Within 15 days after the Engineer Corps, following the declaration of war, advertised for equipment, awards had been made covering the requirements for this vast force—a total of 8,700,000 articles, including among other items 5 miles of pontoon bridges.

The Engineers have also undertaken the work of organizing and equipping troops for special services, such as lumber supply, road construction, sanitary construction, camouflage service, gas and flame service, mining work, and mapping.

PERCENTAGE OF SICK IN ARMY CAMPS SMALL

Returning from inspection trips to 10 Army and aviation camps, Col. Weston P. Chamberlain, of the Surgeon General's Office, reports that the per cent. of sick ranges from above 1 per cent to slightly below 2 per cent.

Among the conditions leading to treatment in hospital are severe colds, tonsillitis, slight injuries, and other comparatively slight ailments. About the only serious disease found at any camp was pneumonia.

Each national Army camp has a thousand-bed hospital, equipped in accordance with most approved modern practice.

Since the war insurance plan became operative in October more than 45,000 soldiers have applied for insurance, amounting in all to nearly half a billion dollars and averaging about $8,000 a man.
